INTO A LIFE-CHANGING
RELATIONSHIP WITH JESUS CHRIST.

The Final Enemy

Article by Teo Ee Kwang
Head (Communications)

Death stalks us because sin severed us from the God of life (Gen 2:17; Rom 5:12). Each day moves us toward a meeting we cannot avoid. As children, death feels unreal—until a pet, grandparent, or parent is lost and the world tilts. We grow up, see its victims, and feel its nagging threat (Ps 39:4–7).

And beyond our homes, the headlines throb with death—war, murder, violence, injustice—so that all creation seems to groan (Rom 8:22).

The Numbness We're Taught

Our age dulls us by denial or distraction: “live your best life now”. We strive, achieve, collect. But Scripture teaches the wiser way: “Teach us to number our days, that we may get a heart of wisdom” (Ps 90:12). Productivity cannot outflank mortality; distractions only delay the reckoning.

The Enemy Scripture Names

The Bible is plain: death is an enemy—the last one (1 Cor 15:26). Since Eden's fall, the devil has wielded death's fear as a weapon (Gen 3; Heb 2:14–15). We cannot negotiate with it, manage it, or educate it away. It must be overcome.

The Victor We Need

Only one has faced death and conquered. Jesus Christ obeyed perfectly, bore our sin's penalty on the cross, and rose bodily the third day (1 Cor 15:3–4). By His appearing He “abolished death and brought life and immortality to light” (2 Tim 1:10). United to Him by faith, we share His victory (Rom 6:5). He is “the firstborn from the dead”, leading a resurrection people in His wake (Col 1:18).

“Death is swallowed up in victory... thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ” (1 Cor 15:54–57)

The Way Christians Grieve

At Lazarus’s tomb, Jesus wept (John 11:35). Christian hope does not cancel grief; it re-scripts it—“that you may not grieve as others do who have no hope” (1 Thess 4:13). Death still wounds in the “already/not yet,” but its sting has been defanged: “Death is swallowed up in victory... thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ” (1 Cor 15:54–57).

The Invitation to Hope

Hear the Lord's promise:

“I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live, and everyone who lives and believes in me shall never die”. (John 11:25–26)

Friend, come to Christ. Turn from sin and trust the crucified, risen Lord. In Him, death is no longer your master. And believer, lift your eyes: your future is resurrection and new creation (Rev 21:1–5). Therefore, “be steadfast, immovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord” (1 Cor 15:58).

A Prayer to Close

Lord of life, teach us to number our days. Deliver us from the fear of death. Thank You that Jesus died and rose to free us. Anchor our grief in Your promises, our labor in Your victory, and our hope in the resurrection to come. Keep us faithful until we see You face to face. Amen.
